1. Try to Log In
   - Go to the CRI-MAC login screen.
   - Enter your username and old password.
   - If the password has expired, you'll see a message like:
     "Your password has expired. Please change it before logging in."
2. Click on 'Change Password' (if prompted)
   - Some systems automatically give an option to change the password after this message.
   - If available, proceed with that option.
3. If You're Not Given the Option:
   - Press `Ctrl + Alt + Del` on the keyboard (if it's a Windows-based system).
   - Choose "Change a password".
   - Enter:
     - Old password
     - New password
     - Confirm new password
4. Password Requirements (Typical Rules)
   - At least 8 characters long
   - Include uppercase, lowercase, numbers, and special characters
   - Should not be the same as the previous few passwords
5. Click OK / Submit
   - If successful, you'll get a confirmation that the password was changed.
6. Login Again
   - Use your new password to log in to the CRI-MAC system.
7. If Still Unable to Log In
   - Contact your system administrator or IT support.
   - They may need to reset the password from the Active Directory or CRI-MAC server.
