Here are short and clear points about name updates or changes in an FIR:

1. Minor mistakes (spelling, address, etc.) – Can be corrected by the Investigating Officer (IO) or SHO with a note in the case diary.
2. Addition of new accused – Done during investigation under Section 173(8) CrPC (supplementary report).
3. Deletion of wrong accused – IO may drop name in final report if no evidence; Magistrate must approve.
4. Complainant's request – Correction can be requested by written application to SHO or SP.
5. Court order – Magistrate or higher court can direct correction if justified.
6. No new FIR needed – Changes are made in the same FIR and case diary.
7. All corrections must be recorded – Proper entry and signature of IO/SHO required for authenticity.
